The committee should carry out the duties detailed below for the parent company, major subsidiary undertakings and the group as a whole, as appropriate.

The principal duties of the Committee are to:

8.1. Have responsibility for setting the remuneration policy for all executive directors, including pension rights and any compensation payments. The Board itself shall determine the remuneration of the non-executive directors, including the Chairman, within the limits set in the Articles of Association. No director shall be involved in any decisions as to their own remuneration.

8.2. Recommend and monitor the level and structure of remuneration for senior or key management.

8.3. In determining such policy, take into account all factors which it deems necessary, including relevant legal and regulatory requirements, the provisions and recommendations of the Code and associated guidance. The objective of such policy shall be to attract, retain and motivate executive management of the quality required to run the company successfully without paying more than is necessary, having regard to views of shareholders and other stakeholders. The remuneration policy shall have regard to the risk appetite of the company and alignment to the company's long-term strategic goals. An appropriate proportion of remuneration may be structured so as to link rewards to corporate and individual performance and shall be designed to promote the long-term success of the company.

8.4. When setting remuneration policy for directors, review and have regard to pay and employment conditions across the company or group, especially when determining annual salary increases.

8.5. Review the on-going appropriateness and relevance of the remuneration policy.

8.6. Within the terms of the agreed policy and in consultation with the Chairman and/or Chief Executive, as appropriate, determine the total individual remuneration package of each executive director and other designated senior executives including bonuses, incentive payments and share options or other share awards. The choice of financial, non-financial and strategic measures is important, as is the exercise of independent judgement and discretion when determining remuneration awards, taking account of company and individual performance, and wider circumstances.

8.7. Obtain reliable, up-to-date information about remuneration in other companies of comparable scale and complexity. To help it fulfil its obligations the Committee shall have full authority to appoint remuneration consultants and to commission or purchase any reports, surveys or information which it deems necessary at the expense of the company but within any budgetary restraints imposed by the Board.

8.8. Be exclusively responsible for establishing the selection criteria, selecting, appointing and setting the terms of reference for any remuneration consultants who advise the Committee.

8.9. Approve the design of, and determine targets for, any performance related pay schemes operated by the company and approve the total annual payments made under such schemes.

8.10. Review the design of all share incentive plans for approval by the Board and shareholders. For any such plans, determine each year whether awards will be made, and if so, the overall amount of such awards, the individual awards to executive directors, company secretary and other designated senior executives and the performance targets to be used.

8.11. Determine the policy for, and scope of, pension arrangements for each executive director and other designated senior executives.

8.12. Ensure that contractual terms on termination, and any payments made, are fair to the individual and to the company, that failure is not rewarded and that the duty to mitigate loss is fully recognised.

8.13. Oversee any major changes in employee benefits structures throughout the company or group.

8.14. Work and liaise as necessary with all other Board Committees.

9. Reporting responsibilities

9.2. The Committee shall make whatever recommendations to the Board it deems appropriate on any area within its remit where action or improvement is needed.

9.3. The Committee shall ensure that provisions regarding disclosure of information, including pensions, as set out in the Code, are fulfilled and produce a report of the company's remuneration policy and practices to be included in the company's annual report and ensure each year that it is put to shareholders for approval at the AGM.

9.4. If the Committee has appointed remuneration consultants, the annual report of the Company's remuneration policy should identify such consultants and state whether they have any other connection with the company.

9.5. Through the Chairman of the Board, ensure that the Company maintains contact as required with its principal shareholders about remuneration.

10. Other matters

10.4. Arrange for periodic reviews of its own performance and, at least annually, review its constitution and terms of reference to ensure it is operating at maximum effectiveness and recommend any changes it considers necessary to the Board for approval.
